

The Significance & Character of Place

This workshop will explore how and why we assess a place's character and significance in ways that will be most useful when making decisions about its future.

It will have three main parts dealing successively with A) concepts, B) methods and C) applications.

For more information contact Pete Alfano on the details below.

t: +44 (0) 116 223 1987

e: heritagepractice@le.ac.uk

w: www.le.ac.uk/heritage-practice

UNIVERSITY OF
LEICESTER

Historic England

When	24 & 25 May
Where	University of Leicester
Price	£375* *1st 8 places £275

The Significance & Character of Place

A) CONCEPTS

- a. Place, landscape, environment Pete Herring, Head of Assessment, Research Group, Historic England
- b. Character and people; perception, attitude and activity Dave Hooley, Senior Investigator, Historic England
- b. Significance: understanding and using a values-led approach to heritage management through Historic England's Conservation Principles Neil Redfern, Principal Inspector of Ancient Monuments, Yorkshire region, Historic England

B) METHODS

- a. Recording and researching historic places Pete Herring
- b. Characterising historic landscape Dave Hooley
- c. Valuing place: Conserving and enhancing places using a values-led approach: Heritage management in the real world. Neil Redfern
- e. Other ways of exploring significance Bob Sydes, University of York

C) APPLICATIONS

- a. Locating and understanding assessments and characterisations of historic landscape and places, rural and urban Bob Sydes
- b. Using them in the formal Planning processes of management of change; strategic and specific; local authority and community planning. Pete Boland, Historic Places Advisor, West Midlands region, Historic England
- c. Other ways of guiding change, e.g. agri-environment schemes, local and community planning and research, and HLF Jeremy Lake, Historic Environment Intelligence Analyst, Historic England
- d. In empowering individuals and communities to plan and bring into effect appropriate constructive change Pete Boland

Choose from one our fantastic courses, and use code "CIFA2016" before the end of May you can save an extra 10% on the list price*.

To claim your conference discount please contact Pete at heritagepractice@le.ac.uk