

Dear EUCALAND members and friends,

please find herewith our summer newsletter, hoping that it will help to welcome the summer ;-)
We couldn't open a bank account yet - due to the high waters we have had in Eastern and Southern Germany. So you see, we are not only working on and about landscapes, but we are really depending on them - in all our daily activities. But now we can proceed and during summer you will receive the invoices for the member fees.

Please note also, that the address of EUCALAND will change:

EUCALAND c/o Dr. Alexandra Kruse
Hauptstraße 48
51491 Overath

With my best regards, wishing you a better summer than we have it so far.

Alexandra

Recent publications about cultural landscapes

New Book Release Designing Urban Agriculture: A Complete Guide to the Planning, Design, Construction, Maintenance and Management of Edible Landscape

Author: April Philips

John Wiley & Sons Inc, New York (USA) (published: 22. 4. 2013), 288 pages, ISBN (13): 9781118073834

Designing Urban Agriculture is about the intersection of ecology, design, and community. Showcasing projects and designers from around the world who are forging new paths to the sustainable city through urban agriculture landscapes, it creates a dialogue on the ways to invite food back into the city and pave a path to healthier communities and environments. This full-color guide begins with a foundation of ecological principles and the idea that the food shed is part of a city's urban systems network.

LANDSCAPE ETHNOECOLOGY, Concepts of Biotic and Physical Space

Authors: Leslie Main Johnson, Eugene S. Hunn (Eds.)

Berghahn Book, New York, Oxford (published: March 2012), 332 pages, ISBN 978-0-85745-632-8

Indigenous and local understandings of landscape are investigated in order to better understand how human communities relate to their terrestrial and aquatic resources. The contributors go beyond the traditional ecological knowledge literature and offer valuable insights on ecology and on land and resources management, emphasizing the perception of landscape above the level of species and their folk classification. Focusing on the ways traditional people perceive and manage land and biotic resources within diverse regional and cultural settings, the contributors address theoretical issues and present case studies from North America, Mexico, Amazonia, tropical Asia, Africa and Europe.

Rethinking Landscape, A Critical Reader

Author: Ian H. Thompson

Routledge, London (published: 1.9.2009), 272 pages, ISBN: 9780415424646

Author considers the aesthetic, social, cultural and environmental foundations of our thinking about landscape, and explores the key writings which shaped the field in its emergence and maturity.

Our landscapes have never failed to entice and capture the imagination of writers, painters and philosophers - and in turn their work has influenced our landscapes for centuries. Provoking thought and discussion, this book does not provide answers, and will not conclude with an infallible theory of landscape.
